

2027/2028 Experimental Weaving Residency Application Form

Are you applying as an individual or as a collaborative? *

Applicants who apply as an individual will be considered for one residency position within their selected term and will be paired by the organizers with a second resident. Applicants who apply as collaboratives will be considered for both positions within their selected terms. There will be no preference provided to applicants based on their answer to this question. Additionally, applicants who apply as part of a collaborative are also welcome to submit an additional application as an individual if they would like to also be considered individually.
